Miss America Crowning Tonight At Atlantic City

By TOM SEPPY

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Beauties from Alabama and the District of Columbia held an unprecedented double victory in the talent and swimsuit competition today as the Miss America pageant entered its final stage.

Both Judy Short of Alabama and Rosanne Tueller of the District of Columbia took top honors in the swimsuit and talent competitions which ended Friday night.

Judy, 18, a blonde from Birmingham, played a violin arrangement of "Hera Staccato" on the marimba to capture first honors in her talent division.

Judy, a 5-7½, Birmingham-Southern College freshman whose measurements are 36-22-36½, won the judges' votes in the swimsuit competition Wednesday.

Miss District of Columbia, a 20-year-old Brigham Young University junior with measurements of 35-23½-35 captured swimsuit honors Friday night.

Rosanne, who lives in McLean, Va., won the talent competition Thursday night with a jazzy French interpretive dance of "I Love Paris."

Last Double Winner

Never in the 37-year history of the pageant had two contestants won both the talent and swimsuit competitions in the preliminary rounds although there have been many times when one girl won both titles.

The last double winner was Nancy Fleming of Michigan, who became Miss America of 1961.

Winning the preliminary events does not necessarily mean a contestant will become Miss America, nor does it guarantee a place in the semifinals.

Midnight Crowning

Points were earned by the contestants in swimsuit, talent and evening gown competition during the past three nights. Those points will be used by 11 judges to select the 10 semifinalists for tonight's competition.

Results of the evening gown competition have been kept secret as have names of the girls who finished second, third, fourth and fifth in all the categories.

Points also were awarded for personality and poise during breakfast meetings with the judges.

When all the points are totaled tonight, 10 semifinalists will remain from the 52 contestants representing all the states, the District of Columbia and New York City.

All previous points earned will be discarded and the semifinalists will compete again in the swimsuit, evening gown and talent divisions.

The judges will select five finalists, one of whom will succeed lovely Jacqueline Mayer of Sandusky, Ohio.

About midnight, one of the girls will walk the 100-foot convention hall ramp, to the strains of "There She Goes, Miss America," into a Cinderella world worth a $10,000 scholarship and an estimated $75,000 personal - appearance contract.

Lower Peninsula Development Unit Given ARA Grant

By ED MARKAITY

MOUNT PLEASANT (AP)—A first aid station for a lagging northern Lower Michigan economy but not a giveaway program.

Thus does the Center for Economic Expansion and Technical Assistance see itself after nine weeks in existence and set up to continue at least six years.

Operating in its first year on a $100,000 grant from the federal Area Redevelopment Administration (ARA), it was dedicated formally Friday at Central Michigan University whose facilities it uses.

It aims, by providing "objective information and technical assistance" — and, sometimes, money for commercial management consultant services — to create new jobs and preserve existing ones in a 33-county region north of the Muskegon-Bay City line.

"This is not a giveaway program," says center director Howard R. Sommer. "We more or less enter an agreement with those we help. We expect them to return to us whatever amount we have borne plus 5 per cent for a revolving fund to sustain the center's work."

He says the 5 per cent would come from increased sales, or business, resulting from assistance provided by the center.

The center was proposed by the Northern Michigan Development Council (NMDC), a private organization of civic leaders, which secured the grant and designated CMU as its agency for research and disbursement.

"We think we know this area, we have a responsibility to it and we'll give 100 per cent support to the center," said Dr. Judson W. Foust, CMU president, at the dedication.

Rep. Neil Staeble, D-Mich., said Michigan's economic growth requires a sound federal-state relationship. He noted that despite a year of prosperity "58 of our 83 counties are designated as distressed areas." He claimed that neither states nor federal government could solve "these economic problems alone."

The "distressed" areas include 29 counties of concern to the NMDC.

The center already has some 25 projects of technical assistance or research either pending, in progress, or completed, said Sommer. Because of their confidential nature they were described in generalities.

Industrial and community development specialist Hal Bell spoke of seeking ways to utilize waste from the wood industry. He also noted the inefficient link between the region's many small metal work plants and their supporting-type industries.

"Some metal plants go as far as 200 miles for supporting service," Bell explained. "They could be more efficient and more jobs would be created if the services were closer to home."

He also commented on the center's feasibility surveys.

"We've had certain types of business develop in our area that shouldn't have been there," said Bell. "They took a liking as did the community. I believe a survey that says 'no' to a possible new business attempt is as positive a service as one that says 'yes.'"

Teacher Strike Solution Sought

NEW YORK (AP)—A three-member citizens mediation panel, appointed by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, is attempting to avert a strike Monday by teachers against the city's public schools.

Wagner, terming the threatened strike intolerable, appointed the panel Friday. Friday night the panel held what it termed exploratory talks with Dr. Calvin E. Gross, superintendent of schools, and Charles Cogen, president of the United Federation of Teachers.

Friday afternoon at a general membership meeting held at Randall's Island Stadium, the teachers voted 5,219 to 758 to reject the board's last contract proposal.

The present teacher pay scale starts at $5,300 a year for beginners and rises to $9,170 after 13 years of service. Teachers also are eligible for three differentials totaling $1,275 a year for advanced training, making a top salary of $10,445.

Dearborn Police Accused In Riot

DEARBORN (AP)—Reacting to a stone-throwing demonstration set off by rumors a Negro family was moving into this all-white Detroit suburb, Dearborn policemen Friday night started a campaign to prevent more incidents.

About 50 citizens, mostly clergymen, asked three ministers who witnessed the demonstration Monday night to draft a protest to the city council.

The group plans to have a number of citizens present the protest statement to the council at its next meeting.

More than 200 persons joined the rock and egg throwing demonstration at the home of Giuseppe Stanzione after Negro laborers were seen moving furniture into a flat rented out by Stanzione.

Although the new tenants were not Negroes, said Stanzione's attorney, Daniel Ferrara, the owner answered queries from neighbors by saying: "All right, I sold to a Negro. So what?"

The ministers felt Dearborn police did not protect Stanzione's property. Several windows were broken and Stanzione's car was damaged, they said.

The ministers cited a state law requiring city officials knowing of "riotous or unlawful assembly" to order the assembly to disperse, or face six months in jail or a $250 fine.

Several ministers said they felt police handling of the situation reflected the attitude of city officials to racial matters.

A spokesman for the Dearborn Pastors Union, which called Friday night's meeting, said Dearborn Police Chief Garrison Clayton was invited to explain the police department's position, but said he could not attend.

The meeting chose the Rev. Thomas Bailey, the Rev. Richard Morey, the Rev. Francis Granger and attorney Thomas Brennan witnesses to Monday night's demonstration, to draft a protest to the city council.

It also appointed a seven-member steering committee to form an organization that would attempt to prevent further incidents set off by racial prejudice.

Wallace Ordered To Face Court On School Balk

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Gov. George Wallace was caught today in a new legal crossfire over the closing of Alabama schools facing desegregation.

Resentment and criticism of Wallace's actions mounted, while he kept secret any plans for continuing the long fight against federal court orders.

Wallace ran into these rapid-fire legal developments Friday.

A federal judge ordered the governor to show why he should not be restrained from interfering with Birmingham schools.

Negroes filed suit for an order restraining Wallace from blocking desegregation of four Huntsville schools where state troopers enforced a Wallace closing order Friday.

A federal court hearing was set on a motion by Negro attorneys to force the school board here to reopen the schools which are scheduled to accept five Negroes.

Court Fights

First of the court fights is set for Monday when U.S. Dist. Judge H. H. Grooms will consider the request for a restraining order against Wallace.

Attorneys for 6-year-old Sonny Hereford, Huntsville Negro, asked Grooms to prohibit Wallace from barring the boy from a white school.

Young Hereford and three other Negroes, along with 2,000 white pupils, were turned away from the schools ordered shut down for one day by Wallace.

A Wednesday hearing was set by U.S. Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lynne on a move for an injunction against the Birmingham school board. Negro attorneys asked that the board be ordered to reopen three schools closed after violence here Wednesday night in which one person was killed and 20 hurt.

Two Negro boys enrolled at a Birmingham elementary school but have not attended any classes. Three other Negroes are to enter two white high schools.

Enjoined By Court

Attorneys for the Negro boys, Dwight and Floyd Armstrong, asked Lynne to issue the show-cause order to Wallace. Lynne set a Thursday hearing.

When Wallace defied court orders last June, Lynne enjoined the governor from physically interfering with desegregation of the University of Alabama. Wallace made a promised doorway stand but yielded to federalized National Guardsmen.

The governor lost his latest legal encounter with Negro attorneys with a ruling by three federal judges that violence or the threat of it is not a basis for closing the Birmingham schools.

Fall Term Monday

This decision was handed down by Judges Walter Gwin of Tuscaloosa, John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans and Griffin Bell of Atlanta. They rejected a suit filed by six white parents, backed by Wallace.

School officials in Huntsville planned to start the fall term Monday. School board attorney Joe Payne said Wallace had promised not to interfere.

Indications were that two Negroes would enter a white school in Mobile next week. State troopers were poured into the port city by Wallace but the Negroes did not show up Friday as scheduled.

Defied by school officials in Huntsville and Tuskegee, where troopers closed a school, Wallace came under fire Friday from several directions.

Parents at Huntsville schools voiced resentment and about 25 mothers marched through a line of troopers at one school to register their children.

Three of the five city councilmen at Huntsville adopted a resolution condemning Wallace's actions.

Two Tots Die In Trailer Fire

PICKFORD (AP) — Two small children lost their lives in a trailer home fire five miles south of this Upper Michigan community shortly after midnight today.

The mother, a widow, saved herself and four other children trapped by the blaze, state police reported.

Killed were Catherine Burlew, 9, and her brother, Lorne, 3. Mrs. Agnes Burlew, living alone with her family since the death of her husband about a year ago, saved James, 14; Eugene, 13; Raymond, 12, and Darrell, 5.

Police said the cause of the fire was not determined immediately. The trailer home was reported destroyed by the time firemen from Pickford reached the scene.

Russell Opposition To Treaty Hurts Chances

Army Bringing Tank Regiment Back From Reich

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is expected to bring an armored cavalry regiment — about 3,000 or 4,000 men — back from Europe before the end of the year.

This would cut from four to three the number of tank-equipped armored cavalry regiments in West Germany.

Their mission is to operate as a screen along the Iron Curtain, to contest any invading Soviet force and delay it until the rest of the U.S. 7th Army and Allied units move into position.

During the Berlin crisis buildup nearly two years ago, the United States sent an additional armored cavalry regiment—the 3rd from Ft. Meade, Md.—to Germany.

It is not certain whether the 3rd or one of the other regiments will be brought home.

Five Division Force

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has said repeatedly that the United States does not plan to reduce its combat strength in Europe below a force equivalent to six divisions.

The withdrawal of an armored cavalry regiment would leave five divisions, a brigade in Berlin and three armored cavalry regiments. The Army considers three armored cavalry regiments the equivalent of a division.

The Army shipped more than 40,000 additional men to build up the 7th Army for an anticipated showdown with the Soviets over Berlin in late 1961. Most were rear area elements.

This brought Army strength in Europe to 270,000 men.

Dollar Drain

Last winter, the Defense Department said about 15,000 of these men had returned to the United States gradually over a period of time. It said there might be "minor personnel adjustments" during this fiscal year.

The gold dollar drain has prompted the Defense Department to look for every possible means of cutting down overseas spending. This has included examination of manpower levels abroad.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, brought up the dollar drain Friday when he asked defense officials about the possibility of bringing back some military men and their dependents from overseas.

Russell, a Georgia Democrat, suggested that the ability of an expanding U.S. military airlift to rush troops to Europe in hours might make it possible to cut the big outlays involved in maintaining U.S. forces at many overseas stations.

Forest Fires In Brazil Kill 250

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP) — At least 250 persons perished and 300,000 were left homeless in a series of wind-whipped fires which raced through under-dry pine forests in the Southern state of Parana, reports reaching here said today.

Brazilian and U.S. teams rushed firefighters, food and blood plasma to the stricken state, Brazil's most important coffee-producing area.

Gov. Ney Braga, who appealed for outside assistance, said the situation in the drought-plagued state was "much worse than you can imagine."

Forty-nine bodies have been recovered and the death toll probably will go much higher, Col. Italo Cortes director of the firefighters, reported from Curitiba, the state capital 200 miles Southwest of Sao Paulo.

Many communities in the path of the flames are in remote areas and some settlements are accessible only by air. Firefighters were hampered further by 30-mile-an-hour winds.

Cortes said one fire was brought under control outside Monte Alegre, Brazil's major paper-manufacturing center, but the city of about 30,000 still was in danger.

Cortes said it appeared that only a heavy rain could quell the fires. He said the state has had no soaking rain for eight months. In addition to coffee plantations and vast lumber resources, the sub-tropical state bordering Argentina and Paraguay has many rich farms developed by Italian, German and Slav immigrants.

Student Revolt Sweeps Saigon

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Saigon combat police dragged off about 300 rock-throwing, jeering children today as a school rebellion swept the city.

Most of those arrested were under 15 years old.

Helmeted police charged into the Vo Trung Toan Boys School and the adjoining Trung Vuong Girls School, dragging students, many carrying their books, into a fleet of army trucks.

Students screamed from windows at American newsmen: "President Kennedy supports Ngo Dinh Diem beating and arresting students."

Hughes Sued For Tapping Telephone

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Howard Hughes, millionaire recluse who runs his businesses from secret hideaways, is being sued for invasion of privacy.

Arthur Crowley, a Los Angeles lawyer, claims the industrialist and 10 unnamed defendants installed a wire tap on his telephone. He's asking $12 million damages.

Crowley, 38, says he found the wire-tap device on his office telephone last September, when he was representing a client engaged in a suit against Hughes and Hughes Tool Co.

But Mansfield Says Senate To Ratify Test Ban

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield says he still expects overwhelming Senate approval of the limited nuclear test ban treaty despite the announced opposition of Chairman Richard B. Russell and some members of his Senate Armed Services Committee.

Debate Starts Monday

Russell, a Georgia Democrat, said Friday that "after long and careful study, I find that I cannot conscientiously support this treaty."

The opposition came as no surprise to Mansfield.

Approval by two-thirds of those voting is required for ratification. If all 100 senators vote, at least 67 votes will be needed for approval when the showdown comes after an expected two weeks of debate.

Unusually reliable sources said checks indicate the opposition will be unable to rally more than 20 votes.

Russell said he will outline his reasons for opposition during debate starting Monday on the treaty banning nuclear testing except underground.

His announcement followed similar ones from Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., of the armed forces preparedness investigating subcommittee, and Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a member of the subcommittee and the parent group.

Sen. Robert C. Byrd, D-W.Va., a member of the full committee, told an interviewer he, too, is in. "Unless I am presented evidence between now and the time the Senate votes that will allay my fears, I shall vote against the treaty," Byrd said.

Democratic and Republican leaders are expected to work shoulder-to-shoulder for ratification.

Reservation Technique

The opposition is expected to muster its biggest vote on attempts to write reservations into the treaty which would require its renegotiation with the Soviet Union, Great Britain and more than 80 other signers.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., will offer a reservation to postpone the effectiveness of the treaty until the Soviets remove military equipment and personnel from Cuba.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., has said he will offer another making clear that under the treaty the United States can use its nuclear weapons at its own choosing in self-defense or the defense of its allies.

Stennis, in a Senate speech, said that closed committee testimony by military and scientific experts convinced him that there is "cause for great concern and alarm about the security implications of the proposed treaty."

He said his subcommittee will provide a report and summary of these hearings before the Senate votes.

Two Saults Join In Civil Defense

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — The civil defense directors of the two Sault Ste. Maries, in Michigan and Ontario, signed a letter of intent Friday to set up a joint agency to act in emergencies.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. Mayor James McIntyre said Canada does not yet have legislation to set up a mutual civil defense agreement, but said he would do everything he could to have some passed.

McIntyre said there already has been cooperation going on between the police and fire departments of the two cities.

Fred Gaertner Dies

DETROIT (AP) — Fred Gaertner Jr., retired former managing editor of The Detroit News who was a crusader against crime and political corruption, died Friday. Gaertner, 72, died at a convalescent home after a long illness.

TODAY'S CHUCKLE

"Ladies and gentlemen," said the guide at Niagara Falls, "this is the greatest cataract in the country. Now if the ladies will only be silent for a moment, you will hear the deafening roar of the waters."

Senator Barry Goldwater (R-Arizona) and President Kennedy share a private joke Friday at the White House. During a ceremony honoring retired Air Force General Emmett (Rosie) O'Donnell, the chief executive spied Goldwater and called "Barry." The familiar greeting drew some laughter and Kennedy explained "We are all friends" as Goldwater joined the President on the steps at the executive mansion. County Problems Of Development Rated Regional

The Upper Peninsula Committee on Area Problems, planning to meet at Webber's Resort on Lake Gogebic at Marquette Sept. 13-14 on the question of its technical assistance program, today issued its second annual report reviewing its activities in economic development in the Upper Peninsula.

UPCAU is supported by the boards of supervisors of Upper Peninsula counties and has been furnished with a technical assistance office staff by the Area Development Administration under an 18 month contract which ends with 1963.

The Sept. 13 meeting will decide whether UPCA will ask ARA for extension of the technical assistance program, and, if it does, what new form it will take.

UPCAU's second annual report lists its Overall Economic Development Plan workshops for the counties, an export workshop, missions to Washington and Lansing on projects, conferences with representatives of economic development agencies, economic development meetings.

Committees report a tourist study project proposed to ARA, an aerial mapping of the Upper Peninsula's timber resource now being flown, mineral industry inquiries, the Russet Burbank potato promotion program, a proposal to the ARA for a fisheries development program, activities to obtain natural gas service.

Home Grown Jobs

The manufacturing committee promoted a U.P. tour of Gerald Albright, industrial development specialist to stimulate "home grown" industries.

The technical assistance provided to UPCA by Robert Nathan & Associates from the UPCA office in Escanaba included aid to a Copper Harbor resort development, to Enstrom Corp. of Menominee in its helicopter development, to the Guard Co. at Carney in pallet marketing, provision of a marketing specialist for study of the area's fisheries.

The assistance office aided counties with preparation of their economic development plans, as well as with specific projects like the Escanaba harbor facility, the Cedar River harbor project, the Schoolcraft retirement village.

Assistance is being given strawberry marketing, potato grading, and other projects.

The Nathan report states: "UPCAU represents the bringing together of the interests of the 15 counties in the Upper Peninsula. Though there are differences between each of the counties, to a considerable extent most of the problems they face are regional problems common to each of them. Because this is true, a great deal of the technical assistance has been related to these regional problems which can be solved only through regional action."

Regional Programs

"The Technical Assistance Office has been involved in developing regional programs encompassing every resource area, from the agricultural and fishery programs to efforts underway to promote a crafts movement."

"One of the most abundant resources of the Peninsula are the forests. Knowledge about this raw material is critical to the development of potential industry utilizing wood. With cooperation of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station in St. Paul a technical assistance project was proposed for an aerial survey to accelerate a forest resource inventory. The project is underway."

"Similarly a comprehensive technical assistance project has been submitted to ARA for promoting increased investment in the recreation and tourist industry."

"An analysis of the U.P.'s manpower will soon be undertaken by Northern Michigan University with assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, the Technical Assistance Office and others."

"The Technical Assistance Office is undertaking a transportation study which will picture the current status of the U.P. transportation system and suggest ways to overcome some of the identifiable problems."

UPCAU had receipts from the counties of $2,892 and expenditures of $1,535, mostly for office rent and printing and supplies, and a balance on July 31 of $2,449. ARA's contract with Nathan provided $120,000 for technical services.

Julius Caesar fancied emeralds, believing they had curative powers.

Newberry Fishing Conditions

Due to heavy rainfalls over the past weekend, fishing slowed somewhat and pressure was down a little. However, with improved weather prospects are more favorable for this coming weekend which marks the end of the regular trout season Sunday.

In the Paradise area, perch fishing has been good in Emerson Bay and also off Whitefish Point. Rainbows have been biting in Emerson Bay on artificial baits. Some nice catches of brook trout have been taken from Betsy River.

In northern Luce County, menominees have been biting well at the mouth of the Two-heart. Near Seney, pike fishing continues good on Stanley and Snyder lakes and perch are being taken in Snyder Lake.

In the Eastern part of the District, moderate success has been reported in Potagannissing Bay for northern and walleyes. Fair catches of northern also being taken in Maude Bay and Maple Island areas.

In the Soo area, walleye fishing on the St. Mary's River has been very good. Fair catches of bass, northern pike and perch are being taken.

Basenji dogs can make snarling and chortling sounds; sometimes they murmur or yodel.

Dr. Seidl Will Operate Hospital

Dr. Roger Seidl, Menominee veterinarian, announced today that he would provide the veterinarian services at the Wood Animal Hospital, 1609 Ludington St., from here.

Dr. Seidl will continue to operate the Seidl Animal Hospital in Menominee, as he has for 26 years, but will give itinerant service in the Escanaba Area, being at Wood Hospital here on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays on a fixed schedule of hours with emphasis on small animal practice.

His practice here said Dr. Seidl, is an interim arrangement with Dr. Ivan H. Wood during his convalescence.

Dr. Seidl is a native of Menominee and has practiced veterinary medicine there since graduation from the College of Veterinary Medicine of Michigan State University in 1943.

Mackinac School Gets State Loan

INCREASED EFFORTS

Efforts to define the upper limits of state sovereignty in international law increased during 1962, according to the Britannica Book of the Year.

Unordered Goods Need Not Be Paid For Or Returned

The year-end holiday season often poses problems about which many citizens are confused, according to the consumer protection division of the Attorney General Frank Kelley's office.

These problems arise through the gimmick of sending unordered items through the mail.

The person receiving the package also receives a bill. If he fails to pay for the greeting cards, book, toy, clothing, or what have you, he soon gets a series of dunning letters threatening all kinds of stern measures if payment isn't forwarded immediately.

Atty. Gen. Kelley said you need never accept items you did not order. You may return the package to the mailman unopened. If you should open the package, however, there is still no obligation to return it or pay for it.

As long as you do not use the merchandise, you have no legal obligation to pay for it. Kelley's advice is to disregard the dunning collection letters.

The merchandise should be kept for a reasonable period of time. If it is not picked up by the sender, or if you are not provided the postage to return it, you are entirely within your legal rights to dispose of it, according to Kelley.

Student Pastor Changes Schools

Robert Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lee of 5 N. Highland, Wells, who has attended Augsburg College, Minneapolis, for two years and who spent the summer serving as student pastor at three rural churches at New Folsom, Minn., will enter the University of North Dakota for his junior year studies. An Escanaba High School graduate in 1961, he has been spending two weeks with his parents and will enroll next week.

Schwalbach Buys Ambulance Service

Kemp's Ambulance Service, which discontinued service on Aug. 30 was purchased on Friday by James Schwalbach and will operate under the name City Ambulance.

Schwalbach, who is 34 years old, had been employed by Kemp Sabourin on a part-time basis for the past several years. He will operate the service from his residence at 1715 7th Ave. N.

The service will be available 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Schwalbach said patients will be transported anywhere, anytime.

He has two ambulances in operation and reported that the phone number of the service will remain the same as before, ST-6-2051.

Sabourin discontinued the service after an unsuccessful appeal to city and county officials for a subsidy.

Schwalbach for a number of years was employed by the Chicago & North Western Railway in Milwaukee before returning to Escanaba about five years ago. He is married to the former Shirley LaPain of Escanaba. The couple has three children, a daughter, Candis, and twin sons, Kirk and Kirt.

From 1948-52 he served in the U. S. Air Force as a mechanic crew chief for jet fighters.

ATTENTION PROPERTY OWNERS

We urge all property owners of the Escanaba Area School District to vote on Monday, September 9, 1963.

VOTE NO

On Propositions 1 and 3

to set up a 2 mill ($2.00 per $1,000.00 assessed valuation) building and site sinking fund for 5 years.

The Delta County Taxpayers Association originally recommended a sinking fund for school building construction and believed it is the proper and economical method of paying for such buildings, but . . . we feel that

2 MILLS IS TOO MUCH!

We had in mind approximately 1 mill

VOTE NO On PROPOSITIONS 1 and 3

We also believe that the School Board should not borrow money against anticipated revenues of the sinking fund because the purpose of a sinking fund is to eliminate interest charges . . . We are already paying hundreds of thousands of dollars in such interest charges on schools.

Since there is ample room for students in our present buildings for several years, we feel that sufficient time should be spent in more careful planning of future buildings and additions. More exact costs for more economical construction should be worked out and voters should be told of such facts before money is asked for. Other school districts are building schools for less money than we are . . . Why do we have to pay more for our schools? When money is available, a careful study of the most immediate building needs should be made. To reduce bussing costs, perhaps the addition to Wells Central School should be considered before rebuilding Franklin School.

We are not opposed to debt consolidation of Cornell and Ford River Townships. (Propositions 2, 4 and 5) and believe these debts should be paid as promised by the School Board.

VOTE YES On Propositions 2, 4 and 5

School Election:

Construction Fund And Debt Equality On Ballot Monday

Proposals to create a construction fund to finance replacement of the old Franklin School building and improve other elementary buildings and to equalize the school building debt of the district will be submitted to the voters of the Escanaba Area Public School District at a special election Monday, Sept. 9.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. and the polling places in the district (composed of Escanaba City and the Townships of Wells, Ford River and Cornell) are as usual with one exception: City of Escanaba Precinct No. 2 polling place has been changed from the closed Franklin building to the lobby of the Delta County Court House.

To meet the legal requirements, five propositions will have to be voted.

Property owners will vote on all five and the other registered electors who are not property owners will vote only on the first two.

Equalize Load

Voters are asked by the Board of Education to approve proposals which will bring mutual assumption of debt in the school district. Cornell and Ford River had bonded their districts for elementary school buildings prior to voting annexation. Consequently the school debt levy is higher in those districts than in Wells Township and the City of Escanaba.

A "yes" vote on debt consolidation and building and site will equalize this obligation throughout the district and will:

Reduce the school debt levy in Ford River by $1.78 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Reduce the school debt levy in Cornell Township by $2.58 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Increase the levy in Escanaba City and Wells Township by $2.42 per $1,000 assessed valuation.

Save Interest Cost

Equalization of the school debt has twice been rejected by the voters in elections at which bond issues were proposed. This time the voters have the opportunity to accept debt consolidation without bonding.

The creation of a sinking (construction) fund is proposed to finance replacement of the 81-year-old Franklin building and to improve other elementary schools in the district.

The construction or sinking fund is proposed rather than a bond issue because it is a more economical method of financing than the issuing of bonds.

Voters are asked to approve a levy of 2 mills for five years to create a construction fund totaling $500,000.

A long term bond issue for the same amount of money would cost the taxpayers over $350,000 in interest. By using the pay-as-you-go plan a longer waiting time for the buildings is necessary, but they will be paid for with cash.

It may be necessary to borrow for one year to speed the building of the Franklin School, which would cost about $4,000 in interest — but this cost would be offset by saving in bussing students of the Franklin area.

Sheriff C. A. Johnson inspects the chrome strip torn from the hit-run car at the accident scene and the twisted remains of the bicycle Joseph Anderson was riding when struck on M-35 last evening. The death car has been described as a 1958 Chevrolet Impala believed to be a light blue color. The bicycle had a small red reflector on the rear carrier. Sheriff Johnson asks public cooperation in locating the hit-run vehicle. Phone clues to the sheriff at ST 6-3633, or any law enforcement agency. (Daily Press Photo)

Bike Rider, 18, Fatally Injured By Hit-Run Car

BULLETIN

Sheriff Cully Johnson reported at noon today that James Lofquist, 29, of Route 1, Bark River, appeared at the jail and said he thought he had struck a deer on M-35 last night but that it must have been Joseph Anderson, the young bicyclist, who died of his injuries.

Lofquist was driving a 1954 Oldsmobile, light blue in color, and the paint matched scrapings on the bicycle which Joseph Anderson was riding. The car's right windshield was broken where the youth's body apparently struck it and the turn signal found at the scene was missing from the car.

Lofquist was being held at the jail for questioning.

Joseph Anderson

Sheriff Johnson reported that Pfc. Paul D. Trotter of 627 S. 9th St., Escanaba, notified the sheriff's department at 10:30 a.m. today that his car had been sideswiped at the accident scene last evening. The sheriff said Trotter's car fits the description of the hit-run car, had the chrome strip missing.

Trotter, when asked why he didn't stop at the scene, told officers he went a way down the road before stopping to investigate the damage.

He is assigned to the Nike site at Milwaukee and was enroute home with four companions. Sheriff Johnson said samples of paint from Trotter's car and of paint found on the bicycle would be sent to the State Crime Laboratory.

Delta and Menominee County law enforcement officers are conducting an intensive search today for the driver of a hit-run car which struck 18-year-old Joseph Anderson, son of Mrs. Edmund Anderson of Rte. 1, Bark River, as he rode his bicycle along M-35 at 10:30 p.m. Friday. The youth died about one hour later in St. Francis Hospital of injuries suffered in the accident.

Sheriff Cully Johnson said the boy was riding south on M-35, about two miles south of the Ford River Bridge, when the unidentified car came along and struck the youth from behind. The car continued on without stopping.

Sheriff Johnson said the first witness at the scene was Frank DesTrampe, 16, of 306 N. 12th St., Escanaba. He was followed by a car driven by Herbert Felton of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and a third operated by Don Beaudry of Milwaukee.

Witnesses told the sheriff's officers that when they came upon the scene they observed a car farther down the road making a U-turn. It drove back to the scene, went over the centerline and sideswiped the Canadian car driven by Felton.

The second car, driven by Beaudry of Milwaukee, witnessed the collision and turned around and gave chase, but lost the car.

City Ambulance was notified immediately and the Anderson

Romney Attacks Domestic Corps

MACKINAC ISLAND (AP) — Gov. George Romney Thursday attacked the so-called federal Domestic Peace Corps proposal as a scheme to "hire mercenaries" to work on problems best handled locally.

"I see a decline in the opportunity for our (state and local governments) capacity to govern ourselves if these federal programs continue to expand," said Romney, often mentioned as a possible Republican presidential nominee.

A proposal before Congress would create a National Service Corps to work in distressed areas within the United States on several general social problems.

Plan U.P. Units On Family Life

Monsignor Wilbur Gibbs, director of Catholic Social Services, today announced an expanded fall schedule of the Family Life Program. Three courses are scheduled for September: the first at the cathedral in Marquette beginning Sept. 9; one at Immaculate Conception Church, Iron Mountain, Wednesday, Sept. 11, and Thursday, Sept. 12 at Menominee. Programs have also been planned for the Sault, the Copper Country, Escanaba, and a second course in Marquette. Starting times for these courses will be announced.

One hundred thirty-two couples participated in this program in its first five months of operation and many residents of this area are familiar with the course. A successful course was given here last spring at the Bishop Noa Home, followed by a second course at Spalding. Present plans call for at least two additional courses to be offered here this winter.

The Family Life Program is a 15 hour workshop in marriage taught by a layman, Urban Steinmetz of Escanaba. It was designed to assist couples in attaining better marriages than they now have, and to aid them in doing a more effective job of raising children.

"All of us can stand to improve our married life," Steinmetz says, "but we feel very much alone sometimes with so many pressures in the modern world working against us. This course is not something new, or something that will solve problems for us. It is merely a workshop that allows us to take an honest look at our marriage, and helps us to find ways to improve it.

"The Family Life Program has changed a good deal since it was first offered two years ago on an experimental basis in Bark River. It is now divided into 12 separate sessions covering such diverse topics as 'Understanding Ourselves and Our Partners,' 'Achieving Sexual Adjustment,' and 'Rearing Emotionally Healthy Children.'"

The course is open to couples of any faith and can be sponsored by any group willing to accept responsibility for planning. Persons desiring information can contact Steinmetz at 710 Ludington St.

Vote On Monday

It won't be easy for voters of the Escanaba Area School District to understand the ballot on Monday. It has 5 propositions. Their legalese makes them a puzzle, but in essence they ask voters to vote two small taxes to retire the debts of the old Ford River and Cornell Township School Districts, which are now incorporated into the new Escanaba Area School District.

The amounts are small for the big new district, but big for the little old districts. The public can, by voting 17 cents per $1,000 and 25 cents per $1,000 clean them up and put all taxpayers in the district under an equal financial burden. This is necessary for the fair and orderly development of the district. Vote Yes on these propositions: Nos. 2, 4 and 5 to accomplish this.

The other propositions, Nos. 1 and 3, will create a school construction and site fund to build a new Franklin School and otherwise improve the district's elementary schools. The money from a 2 mill tax ($2 per $1,000 of valuation) for 5 years will be spent after it is collected, except for the second year's take, which will be borrowed against in order to speed the construction of the Franklin School. (The loan interest charge will be offset by economies in bus transportation and general schooling will be greatly improved.)

The election is a serious one for the Escanaba Area. It calls for a keeping of faith with School District promises in Propositions 2, 4 and 5, and it calls for enlightened spending — and generosity — for education in Nos. 1 and 3.

The need for enormous commitments for education today are rather generally understood, but they come in conflict with marginal financial resources in many homes and cause a natural inclination to say No to further school expenses. The new Escanaba Area School District isn't well understood by its own people yet, either, and this is hurtful.

There are many indications that people are still thinking in old terms of the smaller districts that were put together to form the big new consolidated district. The savings which are possible — along with substantial improvement in the quality of education — seem not to be understood by many voters.

But note what has happened. Ford River Township is paying $4.10 per $1,000 a year on the debt on its 7-room elementary school, and Cornell is paying $5 a $1,000 on the debt on its 4-room elementary school. The huge new Escanaba Area High School which was partly financed with a bond issue of $2,800,000 (it had gifts of $700,000) is costing only $2.90 per $1,000.

This is an entirely new dimension in education locally and also in school spending. Gladstone and Flat Rock and other adjacent districts are spending more than the Escanaba Area District on their schools.

In 1959 when the Escanaba Area School District was transporting 1,155 children daily it did it with 13 buses. Today it is transporting 1,800 children daily and doing it in 13 buses. There hasn't been money to expand the fleet. It would have to be doubled to transport children on the old schedules, pick them all up late, deliver them all home early. Part of its added burden is the dislocations caused by elementary school problems like the closing of the unsafe Franklin School. When it is replaced there'll be a saving in bus costs and much better scheduling.

The new district's high school needs have been taken care of splendidly and now the board of education is trying to finance needed improvement in the grade schools of the district. The program is not an extravagant or reckless one, but a conservative plan which the board of education after a great deal of study believes the district can and should support.

The board has adopted a pay-as-you-go plan of school financing in its sinking fund proposal. This newspaper has long urged this method of school financing because it saves almost half of school construction-financing costs. Its only fault is that it is slow and in a district like Escanaba which has neglected school construction needs for so many years this is a serious flaw.

Taxpayers can endorse pay-as-you-go financing by voting Yes on Monday. To vote No and defeat the project only means that the needs remain and that the district must propose, again and again, that they be met. It should not be said that it costs more to educate adults than children, but this is a fair gauge of repeated elections for educational funds.

Finding The Way

Smell Of Freedom

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Nila Magadoff, wife of the radio commentator and herself a native of Russia, tells of having gotten the smell of freedom in her nostrils.

After a brief visit in Russia, one knows what she means. Once freedom is smelled, there can be no contentment with the ersatz freedom discussed behind the Iron Curtain.

This must be the tragedy besetting those who keep faith in such countries as Estonia and Latvia. These Baltic nations had been free. For 33 years they had smelled the heady fragrance of self-determination. Then came the Russian army, the daily propaganda and the death of the old way of life.

This was written from a world convention in Helsinki, Finland, where delegates gathered from 30 nations. From some countries, such as East Zone Germany, there are few delegates permitted. Denied visas to travel, their names are read here, but they cannot be present. And they have had the smell of freedom in their nostrils.

In Finland there is a kind of dangerous peace. Prosperity is all around and this people smells freedom. They know that they are on the doorstep of great political powers and they remember the agonies of yesterday.

These were the people who fled across the frozen Karelian Peninsula as the Russian army advanced. They had decided on a "scorched earth" policy and they fled from their burning homes in fire.

lighted those angry skies.

Yet they took old keepsake Russian Bibles, tore pages from them and scattered them along the way in the hope that some Russian soldier might read as he ran, reading this Word for the first time.

One has to have the smell of freedom and the faith to continue to believe, despite the difficult days.

In America there can be days of drab routine, when the meaning of the job is absent and it seems too troublesome to continue.

It is at such times, just when we are about to be enslaved by a habit or some despairing attitude, that we must remember that we have smelled victory. Once that smell is in our nostrils we can't be satisfied sniffing the paper-flower promises of some false gospel.

Things that never will happen are the ones most people worry about.

Changing of the Guard

Edson In Washington

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The March on Washington focused world attention on the American civil rights controversy for one day.

But this is not the only place on earth where this issue is dominant. The Washington demonstration really focuses attention on the larger, worldwide issue, as much as the other way around.

Questions of human rights are expected to be principal items on the agenda at the coming United Nations General Assembly which convenes in New York Sept. 17.

The U. N. Commission on human rights, created in 1946, held its 19th session at Geneva, Switzerland, last March and April. Its most important act was to draft a covenant on the elimination of all forms of discrimination.

This covenant will be put before the new General Assembly for approval. The background is important.

The U. N. Commission on Human Rights held its first sessions under the chairmanship of the late Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. In 1948 it drafted a Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

Of the 58 U. N. members at that time, Russia and the Communist bloc nations abstained from voting on it because they were violating most of its provisions. But 48 nations approved it.

The 15th anniversary of this declaration will be observed at the U. N. this year on Human Rights Day, Dec. 10.

The first 20 of the 30 articles in this declaration cover much the same ground as the Bill of Rights in the U. S. Constitution.

The remaining articles cover more modern economic, social and cultural developments such as the rights to work, to rest and leisure, to social security, education, cultural enjoyment, a standard of living adequate for health and well being.

This document unquestionably has influenced the constitutions and patterns of life in many of the new nations. But in converting its high-minded principles into covenants for individual nations to ratify, the whole concept has run into opposition and delay.

The late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles rejected the draft in 1954, while the famous Bricker, amendment which would have limited U. S. acceptance of U. N. decisions was under consideration.

Secretary Dulles proposed as alternatives triennial reports on civil rights and the holding of seminars on human relations. Since 1956 there have been about a dozen of these regional seminars and two more are proposed for 1964 and 1965.

In the meantime, the U. N. Commission on Human Rights has drafted covenants on the status of refugees, stateless persons, women, children; abolition of slavery, forced labor and genocide; against discrimination in education and employment and the protection of minorities; freedom of information, freedom from arbitrary arrest and exile.

Some of these have been submitted to every General Assembly since 1955. But redrafting has not yet been completed and nothing has been approved.

In 1960, however, the general assembly passed a Declaration on Granting Independence to Colonial Countries. A year later the Assembly took note of the fact that the resolution was not being carried out and that armed repression of freedom was being exercised in too many parts of the world.

This gave a new impetus to the human rights movement. The African states, at the International Labor Organization meeting, tried to expel South Africa for its racial policies.

A similar effort was made to expel Portugal from a UNESCO international education conference in Geneva. When this move failed, African and Asian delegates walked out.

These are indications of the sentiment boiling up and likely to generate high-pressure steam at the coming General Assembly.

President Kennedy recently sent to the Senate for ratification three U. N. human rights covenants on the abolition of forced labor and slavery and to protect the rights of women. U. S. law already guarantees these rights.

This is a beginning. And as the President points out in his letter of transmittal, "American ratification of these covenants will stand as a sharp reminder of world opinion to all who may seek to violate the rights they define."

Trujillo Ghost Rules Dominica

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The ghost of Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo still rules the Dominican Republic.

The memory of the dictator, dead two years, was a major factor in the 1962 presidential election. His shadow today threatens the stability of this infant democracy.

Juan Bosch, a white-thatched author-professor was swept into office only eight months ago by a crushing national vote of approval. Now his growing unpopularity is one of many disturbing signs here.

"The trouble here," says a foreign businessman, "is that everyone wants to govern, but after 31 years of tyranny nobody really knows how."

A lack of distinguishable national and international policies springs from widespread administrative incompetence. This has aroused the business and professional classes and some segments of labor, and tended to alienate the Roman Catholic Church.

A result, a once-bright economic picture is dimming and the probabilities of violence are increasing. There is a growing feeling that President Bosch's government may not survive long. Prominent Dominicans regard the tenor and scope of the opposition as confirming a theory that Bosch didn't win the 1962 presidential elections, the National Civic Union lost them.

This view holds that the once-powerful civic union lost out when it insisted on a pre-election policy of punishing all former collaborators and associates of Trujillo. It is said a great segment of the population—including the military establishment—felt itself threatened by such a policy and therefore came to regard Bosch as the lesser of two evils.

The irony of the situation now is that Bosch, whose revolutionary party adopted a soft approach to the Trujillo issue, has asked for stiff confiscation measures against all who might have benefited—even indirectly—under the fallen tyrant.

Announcement of a new confiscation law drove antigovernment feeling to its most dangerous peak. The uproar was but one of the many storms kicked up by the Bosch regime.

By word and deed the president seems to have contributed to unrest that has driven investment capital away and frightened American companies whose holdings are valued at $100 million.

There have been recent signs the president is softening his sometimes stubborn and arbitrary attitudes.

But there are fears the situation cannot continue as it is without an explosion.

Any move by Bosch to stem the tide and restore confidence in the business sector by easing up on some of his reforms could be the signal for the Castroites and far left to make their move.

Realtor Charged With Conversion

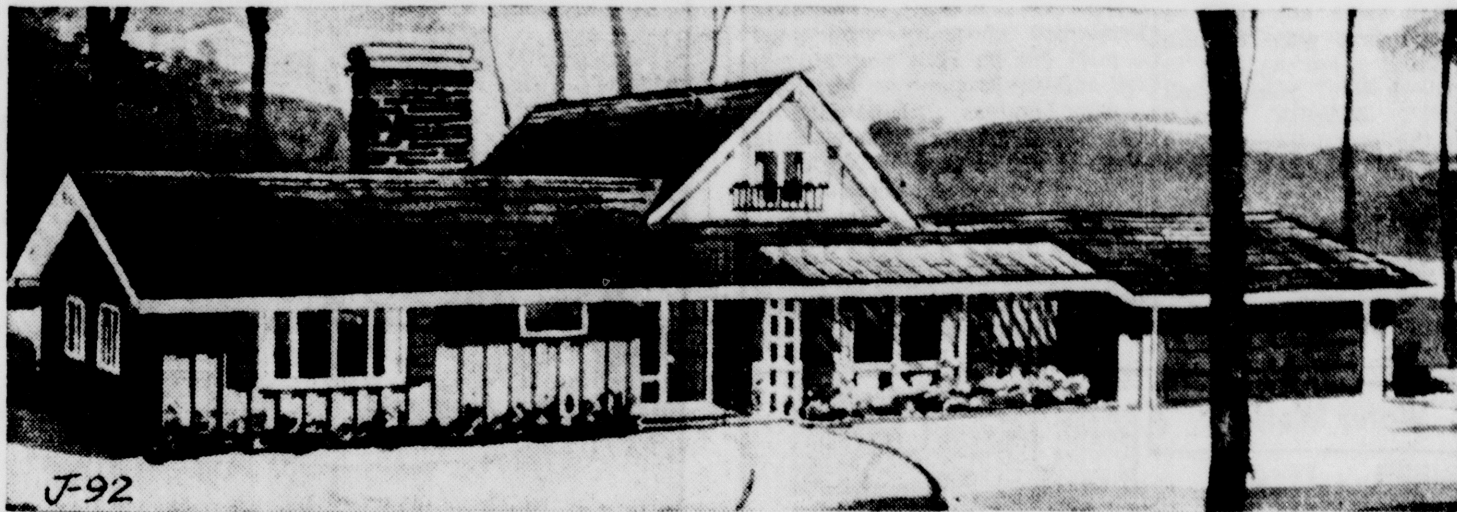

ADRIAN (AP)—Lawrence Stockford, 63, a prominent real estate broker, was served with a warrant Thursday charging him with larceny by conversion and embezzlement.

Stockford, a former president of the Lenawee County Board of Realtors, is charged specifically with embezzling $13,805 dollars in mortgage money.

However, Prosecutor Harvey Koseika says complaints piling up against Stockford will run well over $50,000. Koseika said Stockford manipulated mortgages on Lenawee area property by putting the money in a single bank account and operating his business from that account.

House of the Week

Ranch Rustic Gable Bonus

Southwestern Flavor: The high pitched gable in this tidy little home not only adds rustic charm to the exterior but provides enough expansion room for a fourth bedroom and third full bath.

A steeply pitched stucco gable with projecting wood beams and ornamental iron planting rails imparts a rustic southwestern flavor to this charming little ranch, but it's what's inside the gable that makes the house truly distinctive.

The elevated space is an expansion area for a large bedroom suite with a full bath, giving the home a total of four bedrooms and three full baths within a basic living area of only 1,393 square feet.

The imaginative architect is Samuel Paul. The house is design J-92 in the House of the Week series.

The beauty of this sort of built-in expansion room is that it doesn't have to be finished until it's needed, or until you can afford it, and a handy husband can do much of the work himself.

Additional sleeping space is only one possible use of the room. It also would make an ideal playroom, library, guest room — you name it.

Another excellent feature of the house is its logical and functional floor plan. The kitchen is a true hub of the activity area located between the dining and family

J-92 STATISTICS

A seven room ranch with three bedrooms, two full baths, and expansion room for additional bedroom and bath. Basic area is 1,393 square feet. Expansion attic contains 333 square feet; partial cellar 793 square feet; garage 460 square feet in two-car size. Overall dimensions are 68'8" wide by 39' deep. One-car garage would reduce width to 60'8". Minimum lot recommended: 85' by 90' (two-car garage) or 75' by 90' (one-car garage).

rooms and with good supervision of the play terrace. The large living room is in a dead-end position; it never has to be used as a passageway. It would be hard to envision a more workable room arrangement or more efficient use of available space.

The bedroom wing is nicely isolated, and all the rooms have fine ventilation and good closet space. The main bath is well placed to serve both the living and sleeping areas, and is back-to-back with the master bath for plumbing economy.

The house can have either a double garage (460 square feet) or an oversized single car garage (292 square feet) depending on the owner's needs; the architectural symmetry wouldn't be affected.

With the double garage over-all dimensions are 68'8" wide by 39' deep. A single garage would reduce the width 8'. Architect Paul recommends a plot 85' by 90' with the double garage or 75' by 90' with the single garage.

As important as the attic is in providing an extra 333 square feet of space, its effect on the exterior facade shouldn't be minimized.

The gable intersects the main roof at 90-degree, a treatment somewhat reminiscent of early southwestern dwellings with their mixture of Spanish and Indian influences. Plywood and vertical board siding add to the effect. Overlaid shutters and paneled doors continue the theme, and a charming trellis provides an interesting play of shadow over a planting bed which adjoins a deeply recessed entrance.

The rustic theme is not ignored inside. In a corner of the living room, visible from the entry foyer, is a grand brick fireplace. As an optional feature, a barbecue could be located outside.

A wall of windows provides an excellent vista of the rear terrace from both the living and dining rooms, and sliding glass doors lead from the side of the dining room to the private corner terrace.

The kitchen is a model of step-saving efficiency. There is counter space on all four sides, a double sink, and an extra burner on the wide counter top separating the kitchen and family rooms which serves as a breakfast bar. The service entry and basement steps are conveniently nearby.

Storage space is excellent throughout; there are 11 closets on the main floor plus storage space in the garage, in the partial cellar, and in the attic expansion.

The cellar also contains a laundry and heater room.

Floor Plans: The kitchen is a true hub of the activity area in this sensible and workable layout. Basic house contains 1,393 square feet not counting garage; expansion attic adds 333 square feet. Garage can be either single or double size, a difference of 8' in the width.

Rear View: Projecting wood beams and ornamental planting rails on the stucco gable combine with a large chimney to give this home a distinctive backyard view also. Glass wall affords a vista from both the living and dining rooms. Bedroom wing is at right.

Romney Praises Economic Gains

LANSING (AP)—Two developments in Michigan's economic picture Friday won praise from Gov. George Romney.

The governor welcomed back to Michigan Crescent Brass and Pin Co., which left Detroit five years ago to re-establish itself in the south.

At the same time, Romney congratulated the City of Pontiac as the first city to set up a business development corporation under the economic expansion program approved this year by the legislature.

Romney termed Crescent's return as "a tribute to Michigan's labor skills, management know-how and its advantageous location for industry."

The company will eventually employ 75 to 100 persons.

U.S. Fights For Role In Market

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—Haggling over chickens and wine is only a small part of the battle between the United States and the European Common Market. While the odor of compromise is in the air, the conflict involving money and products is far from settled yet.

The United States is angry because the Common Market has raised the tariff on American chickens and all but cut off a profitable market.

Peace gestures by the Europeans — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg — are termed too small to make much difference.

So the United States this week is exploring countermeasures, such as raising the tariff on European wines and photographic film, among other things.

Also worrying both sides of the Atlantic is the big outflow this year of American investment money. But the two sides take highly different views of alarm.

The United States is worried because the outflow of American dollars increases the deficit in the balance of payments (which this year is far from balanced). That builds up surplus dollars abroad which could be turned into the U.S. Treasury for more of its gold, already subject to disturbing shrinkage.

Some European countries, although they like to get the dollars, are worried because the American investment money could mean Yankee control of their industries.

France, for one, is moving to regulate the flow of outside capital by requiring prior notice of any intention by Americans or others to buy into French companies, except in the normal operations of the French stock exchange where the influx can be watched. The target is private deals which have been fairly common.

France is urging the other nations in the Common Market to work out a common policy on foreign investment. Dollars are welcome as long as they aid economic growth in general. They are suspect if they seem to foreshadow American control of particular industries.

Ann Landers

Freed Of Burden

Dear Ann Landers: Last October my mother-in-law died of cancer. She was sick for five years and there were heavy medical expenses. When she died my father-in-law announced that he didn't have enough money to pay for the funeral.

The four children felt it was their responsibility to help so we all took out loans and have been paying on those loans ever since. Three months after his wife was buried my father-in-law bought a new car (there was nothing wrong with the car he had). Last month he took a pleasure trip.

Every one of the four children is married and has his own family obligations. We think it is wrong that we should be stuck with the funeral bill which, rightfully, the husband of the deceased should be paying.

No one has the courage to say a word to him and I am burned up. I wish you would print this letter in the paper and comment.

Dear Edith: It's odd that one mother can raise four children, but that four children can't bury one mother.

Five years of cancer can be mighty expensive. It may well be that since your father-in-law is free of those terrible medical bills he has a little extra money around for the first time in ages. In my book you're way out of line.

Dear Ann Landers: Maybe you will figure this letter is too foolish to print but it is important to us kids, so please give it a second look.

There is one girl in our crowd (we are all 14 and 15) who is really a good kid. But she has a habit of laughing very loud at just about anything that is said. Some of the things she laughs at aren't the least bit funny.

When she talks, she laughs at the end of almost every sentence. Why does she do this? I mentioned it to my mother and she says one of her friends does the same thing. She can't figure it out either. Can you? — THE QUESTIONER

Dear Questioner: Sometimes people laugh because they are self-conscious. Laughter releases tension.

In the case of your friend, and probably your mother's friend, too, the laughter may not have anything to do with humor. Once you understand this it makes "senseless" laughter easier to tolerate.

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a girl 18 who graduated from high school last spring. My father will send me to the local teacher's college if I want to go. I can't make up my mind. Please help.

I started to go with this fellow five months ago. He is 26, and has three small children. His wife died last year. He's a very nice person and we get along well together, but I don't know if I am able to be a mother to his three children. They are all spoiled because their grandparents have catered to their every whim since their mother died. To be honest, I think I'd have my hands full.

My parents have not tried to influence me one way or the other. I think I am writing to you because I want you to tell me, "DON'T MARRY HIM." What does this sound like to you? — DON'T KNOW MY OWN MIND

Dear Don't Know: "DON'T MARRY HIM." This is indeed what you want to hear, so I am telling you. Your lack of enthusiasm is pretty obvious and the questions you raise are valid ones. If you wish to continue to see this man, along with others, I see no reason why you should not. But marriage at this time—no.

To learn the booby-traps of teenage drinking, write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Teenage Drinking," enclosing with your request 20¢ in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The people who insist on having their own way soon discover how contrary others can be.

Father Stephen Mayrand, pastor, solemnized the double ring ceremony and celebrated the Nuptial High Mass at 11 a.m. today in St. Anne's Church for Estelle Clara Furo and John Robert LaBranche of Milwaukee.

Music of the service was sung by St. Anne's Student Choir and the altar boys were Dennis Bittner, a cousin of the bride, and Duane St. Cyr, the bridegroom's cousin. Tall gold standards on the altar held bronze and yellow shaded mums and pompons.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mildred Furo of 3018 West Wells, Milwaukee, and Leo Furo, Los Angeles, former residents of Escanaba. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Alfred D. LaBranche, 414 S. 6th St., Escanaba.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Sherman Hotel and the newlyweds will be feted at a reception from 4 to 8 at the Highland Club.

The bride's floor length sheath gown of miramis and taffeta featured a scoop neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. Venice lace embellished the neckline and sleeves and edged the overskirt which will be bustled for the reception. A small pillbox made of matching lace held her three-tiered elbow length veil of silk illusion. Her flowers were a cluster of yellow throated white orchids with ivy foliage and the bouquet she placed on the altar of the Blessed Virgin was formed of mums and pompons. She was given in marriage by her brother, Leo Furo Jr., who came from Hawaii where he is stationed with the U.S. Armed Forces.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Jill O'Brien and bridesmaids, Sharon Bergstrom, a cousin of the bride, and Joan Kolich. All three are of Milwaukee. Their formal gowns of ruby satin were styled with fitted bodices, scoop necklines and elbow length sleeves. A tiny bow accented the waist line of the bell shaped skirts and a wattleau train cascaded to the floor in black. Pillboxes of ruby velvet with bouffant veils completed their costumes. They carried single large feathered chrysanthemums with curved velvet covered stems.

White lace and net over taffeta fashioned the frock worn by Diane Bittner, who was flower girl. The princess style bodice had a scalloped neckline and short sleeves. Her veil was attached to a band with red and white roses and the white basket she carried was filled with white mums and pink roses.

Attending the bridegroom was Michael Venne, as best man, and Robert Demars, Milwaukee, and Robert Degnan, Minneapolis, groomsmen. Ushering were William Goodreau and Clifford O'Donnell.

Mrs. Furo attended the wedding and will greet guests in a sheath, with overskirt, of cotton blue lace over powder blue satin, with blue and white accessories. Mrs. LaBranche is wearing toast accessories with her willow green silk sheath dress.

Nipped By Yankees 2-1

Tigers Out Of Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Detroit fans have known it almost all season, and mathematicians said it officially Friday night: "The Detroit Tigers are out of the pennant race."

The New York Yankees could disappear from the face of the earth and the Tigers could win all of their remaining 22 games—and the Yanks still would be ahead of the Tigers.

That's because New York staged a one-run, ninth-inning rally Friday night and dumped the Tigers 2-1, cutting off Detroit's four-game winning streak.

Yankee pitcher Whitey Ford—now a 21-game winner—and Detroit's Hank Aguirre dueled for one hour 51 minutes. Then Joe Pepitone singled in Hector Lopez and Aguirre was a 12-game loser.

Ford (21-7) already had given up six hits. Pepitone evened things by getting hit No. 6 off Aguirre (14-12).

The loss did more than put the Tigers out of the pennant race for the 18th straight year. It also kept them from reaching the 500-win-loss percentage, which they last claimed on April 24.

The Tigers need to win the next two games from the Yanks for a 500 record—71-71.

Aguirre allowed only three hits through the first eight innings. In the ninth, Lopez and Elston Howard each singled, setting the stage for Pepitone's shot over the first baseman's head.

The earlier runs both came on homers. Harry Bright, starting for the first time in 12 days, gave the Yankees a 1-0 lead with a

Twins Use Homers To Snare Second In American Loop

Minnesota's Twins are moving in home run muscle.

But they can't gain ground on the New York Yankees, who are content to single an opponent into submission.

The Twins, dueling Chicago for second place in the American League, beat the White Sox 8-7 Friday night with four homers—including a pair in the ninth inning.

The Yankees bunched three singles in the ninth for a run that gave them a 2-1 victory over Detroit and pushed their lead to 13½ games—their biggest of the season.

Vic Power and Bob Allison socked the ninth-inning homers for the Twins, who boosted their season total to 200. Harmon Killebrew and Earl Battey connected earlier.

Hector Lopez, Elston Howard and Joe Pepitone rapped successive singles in the last of the ninth at New York, providing left-hander Whitey Ford with his 21st victory. The Yanks have been involved in seven straight one-run decisions, winning five of them.

At Washington, in the 100,000th major league game the Senators romped 7-2 over Cleveland, which also lost the first big league match 92 years ago.

Win 14-6 On Drenched Gridiron

Eskey Beats Hematites

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

ISHPEMING — Escanaba whipped the elements and the Hematites to open defense of its Great Lakes Conference football championship here Friday night.

Coach Jerry Cvenegros' Eskymos defeated Ishpeming 14-6 on a water-logged gridiron that was soaked by solid sheets of rain from the opening kickoff through the third quarter.

The driving downpour sent fans scurrying for shelter and emptied the stadium, but the players sloggled through mud and water in a

FOURTH STRAIGHT

The 14-6 victory over Ishpeming Friday night was Escanaba's fourth in a row over the Hematites since the schools resumed their grid rivalry with a 6-6 tie in 1959.

sloppy, fumble filled contest under the most miserable conditions imaginable.

In spite of the horrible condition of the turf and slippery footing, Escanaba dominated the game after losing the ball on fumbles the first two times it had the ball.

Clairmont Top Runner

Jim Clairmont, 192 pound junior halfback, proved an excellent "mudder" for the Eskymos. He slammed into the Hematite forward wall time and again to grind out vital yardage, scored one of the Eskey touchdowns and both of their extra points.

Fullback Dave Boileau and halfback Chuck Brooks alternated in the Eskymo running game and junior quarterback Jerry Hanson handled signal calling duties. He scored Escanaba's sophomore Steve Oman, a 208 clinching touchdown in the fourth

Golf's World Series Opens

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer hopes to switch from taking pills to scoring birdies and Jack Nicklaus promises to become serious today when golf-dom's fabulous twosome hooks up with Julius Boros and Bob Charles in the $75,000 World Series of Golf.

Palmer has been taking pills to ease pain in his right shoulder in preparation for the two-day, 36-hole play in which the winner takes down a whopping $50,000.

Palmer said after a practice round Friday that his shoulder bothered him only when he lifted his club to hit his tee shots. Arnie had a three-over-par 73 over the 7,165-yard Firestone Country Club course.

Nicklaus, the Masters and PGA champion who captured last year's inaugural series, had a 75 in practice, but said, "I was only fiddling" around. A fellow's got to practice sometime."

British open champion Charles, the world series long-shot from New Zealand, shot a 68, bagging three birdies and getting one bogey. Boros, U.S. Open champion, sank a shot out of a sand trap on the 18th green for a 69.

The playoff is a method of bringing together the winners of the world's four major tournaments. When Nicklaus won both the Masters and the PGA, the promoters decided to have a playoff two weeks ago involving Palmer, Jacky Cupit and Phil Rodgers to complete the foursome.

Palmer, who has collected a record $101,553 in PGA winnings this year, outdistanced Cupit and Rodgers to qualify for a shot at golf's biggest jackpot.

Americans Win In Golf Action

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Dick Sikes' steady play in Americas Cup matches has established the 21-year-old Arkansas student as a prime title contender in the National Amateur Golf Championship here next week.

When the muscular youngster came striding confidently through the woods to the clubhouse Friday, a big smile creasing his tanned face, backers of the United States team breathed a sigh of relief.

Canadian players had just drubbed the United States in the first two singles matches of the afternoon and were narrowing the Yanks' lead when the taciturn Sikes shyly admitted he had whipped his Canadian and Mexican foes with five holes left to play.

Sikes was followed in by Billy Joe Patton, U. S. team captain from Morganton, N.C., who also won easily, to clinch the Yanks' seventh straight triumph in the Cup tests and preserve their unbeaten record.

The United States scored 26½ points with Canada second with 19½ and Mexico third with 8.

Sikes was the only player in the two-day clash between the North American neighbors who shattered par on the challenging Waukegan course, which features narrow fairways, frightening roughs and endless hills quarter after a brilliant handoff lake, scampering 14 yards on a keeper around his left end.

Dale Horchner, 204 pound senior tackle, was a defensive stand-out for the Eskymos along with sophomore Steve Oman, a 208 pounder. The Eskey defense effectively bottled up Ishpeming's Bill Norkoli, a hard-hitting halfback. Because of the weather, neither team could throw effectively and the passing game was practically nil.

Recover Kickoff

The Eskymos recovered their own short kickoff to open the game and Hanson crossed the Hematites with a 31 yard pass to Clairmont to reach the Ishpeming 11. Two plays later the ball squirted out of Clairmont's hands and Ishpeming recovered on the 10.

Ishpeming failed to make a first down and fumbled a punt attempt, losing the ball on the 23.

Five plays later the Eskymos plashed over the goal line. Clairmont and Boileau churned out the yardage and Clairmont crashed over from the two. He ran the point to make it 7-0.

With the rain coming down harder as the game progressed, neither team could stage a sustained drive in the second quarter.

Ishpeming hopped on another Eskymo fumble on the Escanaba 34 in the third period. A 15 yard penalty helped the Hematites move into striking distance and Norkoli covered the final four yards around left end. A pass for the extra point failed and Eskey led 7-6.

The air cleared in the fourth period and the Eskymos put on an impressive running performance to clinch their second victory of the season.

Hanson Fools Foes

They took Ishpeming's kickoff on the 20 and Boileau and Clairmont ripped off long gainers to midfield. The drive bogged down on the Ishpeming 33 but the Hematites couldn't move and booted to the Escanaba 40.

In eight plays the Eskymos had covered 60 yards and wrapped up the decision. Clairmont hurled his 192 pounds into the Ishpeming line twice to cross midfield. Boileau shot into the secondary for 18 yards and Clairmont slanted for 14 more.

Hanson sent Boileau to the right and Clairmont to the same side in two plays that failed to gain.

On third down Hanson faked a handoff to the right, took off for the left sidelines, skipped loose from a defensive halfback, and sloshed 14 yards to cross the goal line. Clairmont's plunge for the point made it 14-6 with two minutes to go.

The Eskymos will return to action Friday night, Sept. 13, in another Great Lakes Conference game at Stephenson.

Brazilian Netter Oozes Confidence

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — "We Latins have taken over this silly game," Mexico's Rafael Osuna said with a wink. "I think I'll win the tournament."

Osuna and his bristling confidence form the next-to-last obstacle for favored Chuck McKinley of St. Ann, Mo., in the latter's bid to add the U.S. National Tennis championship to his Wimbledon crown.

Mrs. Jones put out a lethargic Miss Hard, 6-4, 6-3 and Miss Bueno won over out-gunned Miss Richey 6-3, 6-2. Tall, talented Miss Smith, holder of the Australian and Wimbledon titles, and the tiny Miss Catt advanced Thursday.

McKinley fought off one match point and rallied from 03 in the final set in achieving a pulsating 6-4, 4-6, 4-6, 8-6, 6-4 triumph over 18-year-old Tom Koch of Brazil.

Osuna, playing in spikes borrowed from McKinley, won over Martin Riessen, U.S. Davis Cup team member from Evanston, Ill., 36, 9-7, 6-3, 6-3

Senators Cop Milestone Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — Measured by their first and last games, the Cleveland Indians haven't made much progress in the past 92 years.

On May 4, 1871, Cleveland lost 2-0 to Fort Wayne in the first major league baseball game.

Friday night, the Indians lost 7-2 to Washington in the 100,000th big league game.

Only 200 fans saw the Kekiongas—the Indian name for Fort Wayne—down the Forest Cities of Cleveland at the Indiana City in 1871.

In contrast to the tiny crowd that saw the first game, more than 12,000 turned out for the 100,000th game in D.C. Stadium.

However, the big attraction was not their seeing baseball history made of the game itself, what with Washington wallowing in last place in the American League for the third straight year.

Most of the fans showed up because comedian Jerry Lewis and his Hollywood All-Stars played a team of local press, radio and television personalities in a preliminary game. They were in their seats long before the regular game began.

Bennie Daniels of the Senators was touched up for single runs in the fourth and fifth inning, but didn't give up a hit after that as he won his fifth game against nine losses.

Only ceremony to mark the baseball milestone came after the first pitch by Daniels—a strike to leadoff man Dick Howser. The ball used in the first pitch was taken out of play and will be donated to the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, N.Y.

Groat Injured; Cardinals Lose Chance To Gain

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, trying to overhaul the front-running Los Angeles Dodgers with a late stretch bid, have lost the services of batting leader Dick Groat, their first ball game in nine days and an opportunity to gain ground in the National League pennant race.

Groat, the league's leading hitter with a .328 average and a top candidate for Most Valuable Player honors, was lost for several games when he was plunked in the chest by a Don Cardwell pitch in the first inning of the opener of a two-nighter at Pittsburgh.

Nevertheless, the Cardinals went on to win the opener 5-1, extending their winning streak to nine games behind the five-hit pitching of Bob Gibson. Bob Veale stopped the Cardinals in the nightcap 5-0 on six hits for his first major league shutout.

The Cardinals fell 5½ games back of the Dodgers, 5-2 winners at San Francisco as Sandy Koufax gained his 22nd victory. Jim Gilliam paced the Los Angeles attack with a homer and two singles scoring four runs.

The game results shared the spotlight with the medical bulletins. Willie Mays made his return from an exhaustion-enforced four-day layoff and responded with a girls league which was organized this year.

The second game will match a team of Slowpitch All Stars against Mead, winner of the National League championship this season. The teams will exchange pitchers for the game.

Named to the Slowpitch All Star team were Walter Anderson, Wally Marenger, Dick Marenger, Bob Bordeaux, Jack Bordeaux, Jake Bink, John Bloomstrom, Bill Kissner, Joe Heller, Angie Hirn, Dave Friets, Phil Hiney, Roy VanEffen, Duigan Hirn, Pete Hirn, Jack Holmes, John Berrigan and Fred Lueneberg. George Rapette will be manager.

Vikings Blast Cardinals 35-0

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "Turning point?" The only turning point was the opening kickoff. After that it was all Minnesota."

Thus St. Louis Cardinal Coach Wally Lemm described his 35-0 defeat by the Minnesota Vikings Friday night in the final National Football League exhibition game for each team.

It was the first shutout in the Vikings' 43-game history.

Viking Coach Norm Van Brocklin grinned and said: "Ready for the regular season? Man this team's as ready as it ever will be."

The Vikings, closing their exhibition season with a 4-1 record, outtrashed St. Louis 197-43 yards.

The NFL pre-season schedule ends this weekend.

This afternoon, the New York Giants and Philadelphia Eagles meet and tonight four more games are scheduled: Dallas against Detroit, and Baltimore vs. Chicago in a doubleheader at New Orleans; Green Bay against Washington at Cedar Rapids, Iowa; and San Francisco against the Rams at Los Angeles.

Cleveland and Pittsburgh clash in the Hall of Fame game Sunday at Canton, Ohio, in a nationally televised contest.

homer and double for the Giants. Groat was reported to have a contusion of the lower chest wall, and Cincinnati's Frank Robinson may have been lost to the Reds for the remainder of the season with a spike wound on the left arm.

Robinson's biceps was pierced as New York second baseman Ron Hunt slid into second in the sixth inning of the Mets' 5-4 decision over the Reds.

Milwaukee took over third place from San Francisco as Bob Shaw three-hit Philadelphia 5-0 and Chicago's Cubs blanked Houston 3-0 behind Glen Hobbie and Lundy McDaniel.

The American League - leading New York Yankees edged Detroit 2-1, Minnesota outslugged the Chicago White Sox 9-8, Washington belted Cleveland 7-2, the Los Angeles Angels nipped Kansas City 4-2 in 14 innings and Baltimore swept Boston 6-4 and 4-2.

Gibson brought his record to 16-8 and drove in the two runs with a single in the second inning. Koufax, 22-5, was tagged for nine hits and needed Ron Perranoski's ninth-inning help to subdue the Giants. Frank Howard scored the only run other than those by Gilliam on a homer in the sixth inning. Howard and Gilliam each connected against Giants' starter Billy O'Dell, 12-7, with the bases empty.

Wilson Youth Fatally Injured On Motorscooter

Fourteen-year-old Gerald Borden of Wilson was fatally injured at 5:45 p.m. Friday when the motorscooter he was driving was struck in the rear by a car operated by James A. Klee, 26, also of Wilson.

The tragedy occurred on Gerald's 14th birthday and resulted in the postponement of Klee's scheduled wedding today.

Troopers of the Stephenson State Police Post said the youth was thrown from the scooter and died instantly of a broken neck. The mishap occurred about a mile and a half north of U.S. 2 on the Cody Road in Harris Township.

Officers said that the youth had been fishing on the bridge at 47 Creek when his father, Wilfred Borden, stopped to tell the boy to return home because it was raining. The father then drove on down the road to make a U-turn and return home.

The youth was driving the scooter home when the car driven by Klee started to pass and struck the rear of the scooter.

Just about this time the boy's father reached the scene. State Police said it has not yet been determined whether Klee hadn't turned his car far enough to clear the scooter, or whether the youth might have turned to the left, bringing him into the path of the car.

Klee was scheduled to appear before the Menominee County prosecutor today to make a statement. He was not held by authorities.

The wedding of James Klee to Francine Carroll of Thompson, which was to have taken place at 11 a.m. today at St. Francis Xavier Church in Spaulding, was postponed because of the tragedy. The bridegroom is a brother of Klee, and Roger Piche, however, was solemnized at 10 a.m. by Father Walter Franczek.

Gerald Dean Borden, whose death occurred on his 14th birthday, was born in Escanaba Sept. 6, 1949, and was a freshman in Bark River-Harris High School. Beside the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Borden Jr., he is survived by five sisters, Mrs. Edward Wery, Wilson, Mrs. Edward Jenshak, Escanaba, Mrs. Rayne LaFave, Bensonville, Ill., and Sandra and Sheryl, at home, five brothers, Robert and Wilfred Jr., Chicago, John of Bensonville, and twins, David and Dennis, at home, and his grandmother, Mrs. John Plansky, Marquette.

Friends may call at the Boyle Funeral Home in Bark River after 2 p.m. Sunday. Services will be held Monday at 2 p.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Hyde, with the Rev. Philip Kuckhahn officiating. Burial will be in Spaulding Cemetery. The body will be removed to the church shortly after noon.

Delta Vegetables Get 'Freeze Test'

Already known for its production of high quality potatoes, beans and peas, Delta County is now a "test point" for broccoli and cauliflower grown on experimental plot at Clarence Dittich farm at Hyde in Ford River Township.

Dittich and a representative of the Green Giant Co., John Dick of Beaver Dam, Wis., examined the vegetables in the test plot on Friday and samples were rushed to Green Giant's plant at Beaver Dam for freezing.

J. L. Heirman, Delta County extension director, explained the method by which the company assures itself of the high quality it seeks in vegetables it processes and places on the market under its name.

The broccoli and cauliflower from the Dittich experimental plot will be kept frozen until February when they will be removed from cold storage. A home economist will then prepare them for the tables--and a "taste test" by a panel of food experts.

Vegetables from experimental plots in other Middle Western states are likewise being tested in the company's efforts to obtain the highest quality product possible.

"Green Giant is eager to expand the production of quality vegetables to meet the growing demand for frozen foods," Heirman said.

"Four varieties of cauliflower and broccoli are being compared in the experimental plot," he said. "In addition there are Brussels sprouts and two varieties of carrots. Yields and quality look promising at present."

Public Schools Enroll 4,127

A total of 4,127 students, a gain of 49 above last year, was enrolled in the Escanaba Area Public Schools at the close of the first week of school, reports Supt. Walter Bright.

"There has been a decline in the number of students in the elementary grades, but in high school the number is above what we had expected," the superintendent commented.

Enrolled in the new Area High School are 1,172 students: 327 in the ninth grade, 306 in the 10th grade, 304 in the 11th grade, and 235 in the 12th grade. In addition the new building houses 33 fifth grade and 25 sixth grade students for a grand total of 1,230. This is occasioned by the closing of the old Franklin School building and transfer of students to other buildings.

The Junior High School has 750 students enrolled: 286 in the sixth grade, 312 in the seventh and 302 in the eighth. In addition there are 16 students in an ungraded room there.

Enrollment is 459 in kindergarten, 303 first grade, 317 second grade, 301 third grade, 319 fourth grade and 340 fifth grade.
